CSH concrete sustainability hub

2011 Concrete Industry Day at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Concrete Sustainability Hub

August 11, 2011 | Cambridge, MA

Please join us on August 11, 2011 as researchers from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Concrete Sustainability Hub (CSH) present their latest research findings and progress.

The two inaugural work plans of the CSH are The Edge of Concrete: A Life-Cycle Investigation of Concrete and Concrete Structures and From Liquid to Stone: The Genesis of Concrete. Lead investigators for both projects will be on-hand to present their findings, answer questions and hear feedback from stakeholders on the future direction of the Concrete Sustainability Hub.

The 2011 Concrete Industry Day will be held at the Kresge Auditorium on the MIT Campus in Cambridge, MA. The registration fee of $150 covers cost of meals and meeting facilities.

The 2011 Concrete Industry Day is being held in cooperation with the 2011 International Concrete Sustainability Conference being held August 9-11. Those that register for the International Concrete Sustainability Conference are automatically registered for the 2011 Concrete Industry Day and do not need to complete this form. Please only use this form if you intend to attend the 2011 Concrete Industry Day only. There is no hotel block for the 2011 Concrete Industry Day (if you are attending the 2011 International Concrete Sustainability Conference, see hotel block information for the Hyatt at www.concretetechnologyforum.org/hotel.htm). Upon registration for the 2011 Concrete Industry Day, participants will be provided with a list of Cambridge, MA hotels at which they can obtain a MIT discounted rate. Participants will also be sent a final schedule of events with directions and detailed information on the meeting location prior to the meeting date. Registration is being processed through the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association.

The MIT Concrete Sustainability Hub is a research center that was established by the Portland Cement Association (PCA) and RMC Research & Education Foundation.

For more information on the program please contact Julie Garbini, Executive Director of the RMC Research & Education Foundation at 888-846-7622 ext. 1150 or jgarbini@rmc-foundation.org.
